

JESSAMY HOFFMANN, Ph.D.

Assistant Director and Academic Advisor, Honors Program

Dr. Hoffmann is a graduate of Mary Baldwin College (B.A. in English with a History minor), the University of Connecticut (M.A. in Gifted Education), and the University of Virginia (Ph.D. in Higher Education). She has previously served as the Assistant Dean of Academic Services at the University of Mary Washington and as an Academic Advisor at Truman State University. She has worked with gifted students in both an academic and residential capacity through Johns Hopkins University's Center for Talented Youth and Mary Baldwin College's Program for the Exceptionally Gifted.